29. The method of Claim 1, wherein the content analysis is performed off-line and the results are stored embedded in or along with the multimedia content.